

Topic: Department News

Title: DSAS Professor Mark Reesor's work showcased in Globe and Mail

Posted by Jennifer Dungavell on July 25, 2014 Research on new derivative securities known as Contingent Capital Bonds done by DSAS Financial Modelling Professor Mark Reesor, DSAS adjunct professor Adam Metzler, and Western Applied Math PhD student Jingya Li has been profiled in the July 24 edition of the Toronto Globe and Mail's Report on Business.

Research from our department makes a significant impact on the real world!